

ID for snow sports instructors in Switzerland

With the introduction of the digital Membercard, Swiss Snowsports is simplifying identification as a snow sports instructor in Switzerland. Only digital proof is accepted.

Snow sports instructors can identify themselves to third parties in two ways

1

Training certificate from Swiss Snowsports

- Anyone with training registered with Swiss Snowsports can download and present an official training certificate in PDF format at any time
- No membership required
- Available via the personal profile at www.my.snowsports.ch

2

Digital Membercard from Swiss Snowsports

- Accessible online to all members – available directly on a mobile phone
- Can be presented to third parties via QR code
- Interactive security design (moving background)

Front side – Digital Membercard

Front side of the Membercard

- Personal details
- Training level (Level 1–4 Instructor)
- Date until which the continuing education requirement is fulfilled
- Membership number – for verification by the association

ISIA-Stamp

Official seal of quality of the International Ski Instructors Association (ISIA). Proves active registration in the ISIA database:

isiadb.ski/instructor

- Validity period of the ISIA-Stamp
- Personal ISIA code – verifiable online

Back side (from Level 3) – Digital Membercard

Important: Internationally recognised only with a valid ISIA-Stamp

from Level 3

from Level 4

Physical Membercard

There is a neutral card containing the photo, name, date of birth and membership number. On the back is a QR code that links to the digital Membercard and can be scanned with another person's smartphone, e.g. cashier staff.

International instructors

International snow sports instructors identify themselves with ID from their national associations. These may differ from the procedures described here.
